Office of the State Engineer

Price, Utah 84501.

Dear Mr. Staker:

Re: Salina Creek Irrigation Company.

I had expected to send to you before now the Application of Salina Creek Irrigation Company for Changes in Points of Diversion in connection with its main decreed water right. However, I wanted to double-check some of the information included in the Application.

While in Salt Lake City recently, I called at the office of the State Engineer. While I was there, they telephoned you, as you will remember, to make sure of the point of diversion presently shown by the State Engineer's records. I was sure it was different from that shown in the Cox Decree and had used the new point of diversion in filling out the Application, but had no verification in my files that this different point of diversion had ever been approved by the State Engineer, nor could the Company itself find any proof or verification that the change had been made legally.

I also had in my files information about the locations of the El Paso Well and the Sevier Valley Mine, but sought to verify these to make sure they were correct. It now appears that the information I had obtained previously is correct, so I expect to send to you the completed application on tomorrow's mail. I apologize for the delay in getting this forwarded to you.

Very truly yours,

M.
